

Claim 68, line 1, delete "or".

Claim 95, line 3, after "amount" add --ranging from--.

REMARKS

Appellants provide this proposed Amendment together with their Appeal Brief wherein the Amendment is discussed on pages 2 and 6-7.

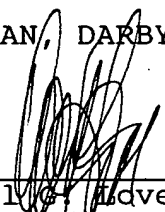

The proposed amendment corrects the text of amended claim 1 wherein the superscript numeral 2 of the R substituent (line 9) was inadvertently omitted from the claim language. The Amendment also corrects additional inadvertent and nonsubstantive errors in the claims thereby presenting them in better form for consideration on appeal (37 C.F.R. 1.116(a)). The Amendment adds no new matter to the application.

It is appellants belief that the claims, as now amended, particularly and distinctly define the invention of the present application. Appellants respectfully request, therefore, that the Amendment be entered and the claims allowed.

Respectfully submitted,

CUSHMAN, DARBY & CUSHMAN
